

Fire Training

Fire safety is a responsibility that we should all take very seriously.

Many lives are lost each year to fire and fire related incidents. Education about the nature of fire and what to do in an emergency can go a long way in not only preventing a fire based emergency but can indeed save lives.

How often do we say “it can’t happen to me” but the truth of the matter is, it can happen to any one . Fire training can prepare you and your staff, so that in the event your business is endangered by a fire based emergency you and your staff will take the appropriate action, you will react efficiently and effectively. YOU WILL SAVE LIVES!

In accordance with Queensland Development Code part MP6.1, the occupier of a building must give First Response Fire and Evacuation Instructions for the building to each person working in the building at intervals of not more than two [2] years.

The First Response Fire and Evacuation Training provided by a qualified Fire Safety Advisor employed by Guardian Fire Control meet the requirements set out in the Queensland Development Code part MP6.1 and is presented in a way that is simple and easy to understand.

WE COME TO YOU, so there is no need to try and organise staff to attend a training facility. We conduct the training during normal business hours at times that are convenient to both management and staff.

The training covers topics such as

- Understanding the nature of fire
- Identifying possible fire risks and hazards
- Knowing what to do if a fire breaks out
- Knowing how to evacuate quickly and calmly
- Knowing how to use a fire extinguisher
- Knowing what type of fire extinguisher to use

Being safe and saving lives is the most important thing we can do. Let us help you.
